Press Release November 2014

Aage Hempel Group signs contract with Radio Zeeland DMP for service & distribution of RZ products.

Aage Hempel, leader in worldwide merchant marine electronic service and focused on 24/7 maritime sales & service, signs agreement for service & distribution of RZ products for the Mega Yachting in Spain.

ABOUT Radio Zeeland DMP

When founded in 1970, Radio Zeeland DMP started as a repair center for navigation and communication products. Later on, we noted the need for high quality products for commercial shipping. We focused on the production of our own navigation equipment, like an autopilot, a rate of turn indicator and a depth sounder. We started to produce our own lines from beginning to the end and extended them with more and more products. All which are required for the safe navigation of your ship, keeping our focus on design, quality and a user friendly operation

After 20 years of full dedication to the commercial shipping industry, we have taken the steps into the yachting market. With new ideas and techniques we have introduced a complete new perception of an integrated bridge. Over the years we have installed our system on some of the world's most prestigious yachts and worked closely together with the most respected shipyards. High Quality and matching aesthetics are the key for all of our panels and systems.

Radio Zeeland DMP is also known for its capabilities as an OEM manufacturer. Producing all kinds of equipment used in the maritime industry.

For decades, Radio Zeeland DMP has proven its value on challenging projects. As the perfect project partner we are able to assist you in developing and engineering the right concept for the best solution, optimally tailored to the desires and wishes of the customer.

We can deliver products from a simple control panel to a completely pre-fabricated bridge console with all data acquisition elements and remote control stations, from a 20 meter pleasure craft to a 141 meter hyper yacht; we offer the solutions for which the standard equipment manufacturers will have to pass. The design is in close corporation with the owner, taking into consideration the specific wishes and demands, but also the overall design language of the ship. The result is a matching solution that enhances the experience onboard.
